The Chairman of the EMP has expressed his deep sorrow about the death of the late Eritrean Foreign Minister who had left very unique stamps in the Eritrean liberation war as explained ambassador Abdella Adem. Mr Abdela said that his mind took him back to the days of the armed struggle recalling the great roles and precious contributions of the hero Ali Said to liberate Eritrea. Mr. Adem said that he had known the late Eritrean hero as a distinguished fighter and leader who was highly respected by his troops and comrades. He said that he met the late at Agembssa, Samhar Regions, where he was a commander of a division; at a time the EPLF had three divisions; and the passed away was characterized by very unique leadership characters and courage. Mr. Adem made clear that the late foreign minister was among the very few who had offered precious contributions for Eritrea. It is really unfortunate not to be able to take part at the funeral ceremony of a dear friend who had been known for his faithful friendship, amicability, courage and kindness amid his friends, colleagues, comrades and troops, said Adem. Eritreans are enduring an ordeal because of the repressive political situation in Eritrea, stated Mr. Adem. The miserable situation in Eritrea has prevented Eritreans from sharing with each other happiness and sorrows." So long we are not able to extend our condolence the family of the late from a nearby, I would like to give my condolence through the Eritrean media outlets," added Mr. Adem, the Chairman of the EMP. "This reflects the magnitude of oppression the Eritreans are living." He concluded, his cursory statement to the GIC, that Eritrea has lost a hero who passed away in a very critical situation, said Adem.
